

About yourself

In a short paragraph, please tell us about yourself (you may wish to talk about; your interests, what pronoun you'd like to be referred to as, the nationality you identify with, family, gender)

With a passion for innovation and a commitment to excellence and care, I Olugbenga Daniels (OGD), A Nigerian, Male, has a vision of delivering high-quality, results-driven solutions that truly make a difference.

My background in Accounting and Audit has equipped me with the insight and skills to critically analyse issues with a focus on integrity, creativity, and stakeholders satisfaction. At the heart of my work is a dedication to building lasting relationships and helping businesses grow through thoughtful strategy and reliable execution.

out of a deep passion for providing compassionate, dignified, and person-centred care. With years of experience in the care sector, I've seen first-hand the impact that genuine support and empathy can have on individuals and families. At the core of everything I do are my values: respect, integrity, empathy, and excellence. These principles guide every decision, every service, and every interaction I am engaged in.
